Dear Mayor Garcetti, Councilmember Wesson, and Mr. Wasserman,

As a follow-up to the letter we sent you in August, Airbnb is proud to officially congratulate the Los Angeles 2028 and City of Los Angeles on the successful bid to bring the Games back to the City of Angels in 2028.

The following report outlines several examples of how Airbnb can help extend the capacity for the City and surrounding communities to welcome visitors coming to witness the Games.

As the official alternative accommodations supplier of the Rio 2016 Olympic Games, Airbnb hosts welcomed 85,000 guests and helped provide anyone who wanted to see and experience the Games with a place to stay, even at the last minute, and within a price range that fit all budgets.

We believe the examples included in this report showcase how our host community can provide the same experience in Los Angeles for the 2028 Games and look forward to continued conversations over the next several years.

Sincerely,

John Choi
Public Policy Manager, Southern California
